DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 6-24 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim . See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 7-24 have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

4. Claim 3 recites the limitation "the lumen" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bashiri et al. 6165178.

Art Unit: 3734

7. Bashiri et al. teaches a device comprising an insertion aid (102), at least one occlusion helix (120), at least one electrolytically corrodible severance element (112), with at least one stabilization helix (127) being arranged between severance element (112) and occlusion helix (127), characterized in that the stabilization helix (127) being connected with the occlusion helix (120) by an electrically isolating adhesion layer (125) such that the occlusion helix (120) becomes isolated from voltage when an electrical voltage is applied to the severance element (112), characterized in that the stabilization helix (127) is provided with an electrically isolating coating (col. 6, lines 8-16); and characterized in that a securing means (129) extends through the lumen of the occlusion helix (120); characterized in that the securing means (129) consists of a material having shape-memory properties.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bashiri et al. in view of Aganon et al. 7166122.

10. Bashiri et al. teaches the device according to claim 3. It should be noted that Bashiri et al. fails to teach that the securing means (129) consists of a material having shape-memory properties. Bashiri et al. teaches that the securing means can consist of a metallic wire or polymeric thread (col. 5, lines 60-62).

Art Unit: 3734

11. Aganon et al. teaches a device with a common securing means (129) consists of a material having shape-memory properties (nitinol, col. 8, lines 56-col. 9, line 35).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to select a known material; including the material claimed, on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice.

12. Bashiri/Aganon teaches the device according to claim 4, characterized in that the securing means (129) undergoes transformation and assumes a previously impressed structure when placed into the body vessel or body cavity (definition of shape-memory); and characterized in that the securing means (129) consists of Nitinol (col. 9, lines 14-25).
